

Disneyland® 1-Day Park Plan

Disneyland® Park shares many of the same lands as Magic Kingdom® Park, including Adventureland, Tomorrowland, Fantasyland, Frontierland and Main Street, U.S.A. It also shares some attractions with the same name, although they are not all exact replicas. Pirates of the Caribbean at Disneyland® Park, for example, is thought to be superior to its counterpart in Magic Kingdom® Park, with more elaborate storytelling, more waterfall drops and an expanded city burning scene. It opened in 1967 and remains the park's most popular attraction. Because of the large number of attractions at Disneyland® Park, we suggest allotting at least two days to explore this park and taking advantage of FASTPASS, Disney's ride wait system, and MaxPass, an optional paid add-on that allows you to make FASTPASS reservations from your smart phone.

We recommend arriving at least 30 minutes ahead of the official opening so that you are one of the first to enter the park. (Guests who are driving should arrive an hour early to park and access the tram or parking shuttles.) Guests taking advantage of the Extra Magic Hour or Magic Morning benefits are allowed one-hour early entry into the park on select days (usually Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday but sometimes more days during some holiday periods), with access to Tomorrowland and Fantasyland attractions.

Unlike crowds at Walt Disney World® Resort that generally peak in the afternoon and then ease off in the evening, crowds generally build and build throughout the day at Disneyland® Park. Locals with annual passes make up a large percentage of the guests and will often visit the park after work, making the evening hours as crowded as the afternoons. For this reason, we highly recommend visiting the highest priority attractions in the morning when waits are lowest. We encourage guests to experience your chosen attractions in each land before moving on to the next.

Disney FASTPASS Service: The Disneyland® Resort has two options for using FASTPASS. The Disneyland® Resort continues to make use of the traditional FASTPASS service, wherein guests can collect FASTPASSES at certain attractions to return at specified hour-long windows later in the day. After collecting a FASTPASS, a guest has a waiting period before being able to collect the next FASTPASS, with shows like World of Color and Fantasmic! being the exception. A guest can collect another FASTPASS after the time stated on the current FASTPASS passes (or two hours pass). FASTPASSES DO get distributed quickly for some attractions. For example, Space Mountain FASTPASSES go faster than other Disneyland® Park rides.

MaxPass is another option for using FASTPASS through your smart phone. You can purchase MaxPass through the Disneyland Mobile App once you enter the park or when you purchase your tickets. It costs $10 per person per day and also comes with unlimited PhotoPass downloads for the days you have activated MaxPass. MaxPass can help you maximize time because you can save a lot of extra walking and even make FASTPASS reservations from either park for both Disneyland® Park and Disney California Adventure® Park when Park Hopping. You can start making reservations once you have entered the turnstile at a park entrance or the Monorail. MaxPass usually offers earlier FASTPASS return times than traditional FASTPASS, meaning you can skip a few more lines when you spring for MaxPass. Plus, as soon as you scan your park ticket at a ride to redeem the FASTPASS, you can immediately reserve your next FASTPASS while standing in line. The exception is show FASTPASSES. You have to obtain those in person.

There are several things to take into consideration that could affect your park plan:

- ★ FASTPASS availability
 - ★ Ride closures
 - ★ Extra Magic Hour/Magic Morning
 - ★ Shows such as Jedi Training: Trials of the Temple
 - ★ Parades, fireworks and nighttime show schedules/availability
 - ★ Park hours/crowd levels
 - ★ Weather
 - ★ Your own personal interests and ages, heights, and interests of children

Disneyland® Park Single Rider Attractions:

Single rider lines are an excellent choice for those guests who don't mind splitting up their party in exchange for a shorter wait time. Guests must meet height and age requirements to ride alone.

Disneyland® 1-Day Park Plan

We've created this one-day park plan so you can experience the most popular attractions with the lowest waits, prioritizing rides that should be visited within the first hour, and within the first two and last two hours. This plan assumes you are starting within the first hour of park opening and finishing in the evening. To incorporate priority character experiences and other attractions, we recommend you plan at least two days at Disneyland® Park.
